Tbh...about LGBTQ+... actually i could be completely understand about transgenders but still LGBQ and with ++ terms wonders me how it possible...is that feel of mentally or physically...how they could connect...blah blah and blah questions... especially when

BBC announced that they are more than 100+ genders...i was surprised and started reading about that...i was laughing really... actually should not be judged butttt...i couldn't understand so I don't know how can I express my thoughts on that...but still curious on that topic and want to be informative...
